contains an article upon "Water Works' Franchises" by Charles R. Temple of this city, and a contribution by Robert R. Bumper, Esq., of Muskegon, upon "Reform of Michigan Circuit Courte " a tall fish story-a story that on its face pulled him into the water from the boat. Nester's voting directory is a card and very promptly the man with the historic name was classed as an A1 fish liar. A day or two ago a pike of twentyseven pounds weight was found dead or dying in the river, and in its mouth was found Thomas Jefferson's spoon hook, and attached to his hook was his line. The fisherman had told the truth. He was standing up in his boat and the fish caught him off his balance and pulled

I personally knew of a fishing companion being pulled into the water in something the same way by a lake trout of less than half the weight of the pike. The angler hooked the fish and attempted to stand up in the boat. He was cold and cramped from sitting and the lake was rough, and over he went. The funny part of it was that his boatman, who was looking ahead, did not see him go overboard, nor did he hear him. The boat felt lighter and, looking around, the oarsman found himself alone in the boat and it was more than a mile to shore. The boat was backed up and the angler caught the gunwale with one hand and clung to his rod with the other, and fish and fisherman were both saved .- Forest and Stream.

When Man Was in Darkness

Man was once in comparative darkness when the sun went down. His primitive habitation was a place of rest, unlighted by the oil which prolongs the hours of labor, doubles the speed of progress and shortens life. After ages of groping about-feeling for the keyhole on the wrong side of the door, so to speak—he stumbled on the fact that fat could make a light. Looking around for something to hold the fat the skulls of animals were found useful, and so the antediluvian discovered the principle of portable illumination.

From skulls and seashells light pro ceeded to vessels of burned clay, dishlike, with wicks of flax, rushes and other fibers. Many of these primitive amps have been found in the ruins of Pompeii, Herculaneum and elsewhere, but the invention of the lamp is supposed to belong to the ancient East Indians. Until the beginning of the Nineteenth century there was little im-provement in lamps. The candle kept numanity in semidarkness, which was paper. relieved by the introduction of mineral oil, which stimulated invention and brought about the lamp of beauty and

The Size of the Gulf Stream. People think the Mississippi a great tream, and it is so in truth, so far as land rivers go, but great as it is it would require 2,000 such rivers to make one Gulf Stream. The Wrong Side of Fifty. Reader, have you passed the meridian of life? Are your joints getting stiff, your muscles and sinews losing their elacticity? Are you troubled with lumbage? Are you, in short, in daily or occasional receipt of any of those admonitions which nature gives to remind people that they are growing old! If so, try a course of Hostetter's Stomuch Bit ters, a most genial and agreeable miligator of ters, a most gonia and agreen be calligator of the infermilies of age, a rap il promoter of construction, and an effectual means of constructing bodils decay. Good digestion, amond sleep, a hearty appetite, freedom from the meantr twinges, are among the beings fruits that spring from the resular and per-sistent use of this superb tenic and corrective, which has received the annual feet mortion of the medical fraternity. Give it the lat-tels that it deserves and you will be grateful for this advice.

The Twin Babies of Mrs. C. M. Holbrook.

How They Came to Be Plump and Healthy Youngsters.

When Born They Weighed 4 Pounds Each-Fond of Best Food.

They say that man is born to sorrow as the sparke fly upward. But many of these sorrows are of his own creation-or his parents'.

How few of us passed the first five years of life without suffering. How many people there are who have been chronic sufferers from childnood, because they started in life's way weak and sickly, and just because they were improperly nourished.

born, and were very delicate, but now thanks to lactated food, they are plump and healthy as can be. They

The reason that lactated food is so universally successful in such cases is simply that it is as nutritious as it is at any other house in the city. We easily digested and assimilated. Next advise you to cut this out, and bring it to pure mother's milk, it is the best possible food for the little one, and experience has shown that babies who cave the mother's breast, thrive better upon it, and become healthier and stronger than when fed in any other

The principle element of woman's milk is sugar of milk, and this is the basis of lactated food. With it is combined the nutritious elements of the great cereals, wheat, barley and cats, and the addition of the salts found in the mother's milk make it a perfect substitute. Thousands of mothers, the country over, have written their unsolicited testimony of its great worth, and thousands of happy, smiling, healthful babies are the living evidence of what it does.
